

Projekt- und Ressourcenmanager (all genders)

What you can expect:

- You coordinate project staffing with consultants based on their skills and availability
- You resolve conflicts in resource requests and ensure compliance with planning premises
- You conduct regular meetings to align resource needs with team

Your skillset:

- You have completed your studies (e.g., in Human Resources, Business Administration, or Business Psychology) or equivalent education
- You have 3-5 years of professional experience in project management, human resources, or preferably in resource management/project staffing

leaders and Key Account Managers

- You assist in analyzing capacity constraints and skill gaps
You drive internal process development in Project Staffing
- You collaborate closely with "Delivery Partner Management" to deploy external resources
- You lead your own projects or support project leaders to ensure project success
- You plan, control, and monitor projects
- You are an empathetic, communication-strong personality with a team player mentality
- You have a pragmatic mindset and a sense of responsibility
You demonstrate flexibility in a dynamic environment
- Ideally, you have experience with skill management, resource planning, and reporting tools, such as PSA Microsoft Dynamics, Power BI
- You have very good German and English language skills

About Parsionate

Parsionate advises companies, unlocking their potentials or co-creating entirely new solutions with them. All based on data and its possibilities. We call it Data Leadership. With our expertise, we focus on the benefits and successes we generate for our customers and partners. That's precisely why Parsionate works "end-to-end" – from strategy development to full technological implementation. Over 200 experts work on this mission at our Parsionate locations across Europe. Become a part of it.

Parsionate

Parsionate GmbH

Helen Kern
Motorstraße 25
70499 Stuttgart
working@parsionate.com

Jetzt Bewerben

Über WhatsApp bewerben